Hospital's Amateur Radios Communicate Near and Far

The Hospital's Emergency Communications Room is equipped with amateur ("ham") radios for communicating long-range (top right) or short-range.

What Is It?

Hospital's Amateur Radios

Short Range Radio:

The Yaesu FTM-350 VHF/UHF radio is used for communicating with licensed amateur radio operators in Love and nearby counties. The radios can communicate by voice or text.

Long Range Radio:

The Yaesu FT-897 HF radio is used for communicating with amateur radio operators around the nation and world.

Volunteers Practice:

Love County's licensed amateur radio operators visit the communications room to practice their radio skills. They may be called upon to serve in the communications room or in the field in case of communication or weather emergencies.
