HOSPITAL'S EMERGENCY RADIOS CONNECT WITH AREA DISPATCH CENTERS

The Hospital's Emergency Communications Room has radios capable of dispatching emergency vehicles (top right), and a scanner for monitoring radio traffic from multiple public safety agencies.

What Is It? Hospital Public Safety Radios and Scanner

Public Safety Radios: VX-6000 VHF radios are used to contact law enforcement, fire, and EMS (ambulance). The radios produce 110 watts of power and are capable of reaching the emergency dispatch centers of surrounding counties.

Digital Radio Scanner: The GRECOM desktop scanner monitors communications from Skywarn storm spotter networks, police, fire, ambulance, rail, aircraft, marine, and amateur radio frequencies in Love and surrounding counties. During storms or disasters, the room's operators learn of events as they are occurring.
