Hospital's Radio Repeaters Back Up Public Safety Signal Towers

Repeater towers on Oswalt Road (left) and on Peak Hill south of Marietta are backed up by reserve repeater equipment inside the Hospital Emergency Communications Room (right).

What Is It?

Radio Repeater. A radio repeater receives a radio signal and retransmits it.

Day-to Day Use:

Repeaters serving Love County fire/EMS/law enforcement and amateur radio operators are mounted on signal towers outside of Marietta.

Back-Up Repeaters:

Inside the Hospital Emergency Communications Room are side-by-side back-up repeaters (inset photo). They take over if the County's repeaters stop transmitting in a storm or disaster.
