Physical Therapy Services

The hospital has an expansive Therapy Building filled with exercise, cardio workout, and rehabilitative equipment. Patients train to restore function to muscles, joints, or other injured or diseased body parts on a pace and schedule specially designed for their needs.

Physical therapists often teach patients how to do exercises to gain strength and perform tasks without difficulty or pain.

Brenda Beard, PTA

Brenda Beard's experience in hospital, nursing home, and home health physical therapy adds up to 35 years!

The Kansas native has been serving patients in our hospital since 2002. She is skilled at gaining the trust of patients who engage in the program of exercises required in order to recover fully from surgery on the back or joints.

One knee replacement patient arrived stating to Beard he was sorry he had undergone surgery. "After four weeks of physical therapy, he said his regrets were gone."
