EMS LIFTING BAGS RAISE HEAVY OBJECTS

What is It?

Vetter Lifting Bags, used by Love County EMS-Fire Brigade, lift collapsed cars or structures to gain access to patients trapped beneath.

Lift the Load: Firefighter/EMT Tyler Hundt lays out pneumatic lifting bags, which are made of aramid-reinforced rubber (left). The largest bag lifts 26.5 tons to a height of 12 inches. Paramedic Richard Brock (right) operates a control that inflates a lifting bag with air.

Stabilize the Load: Wood blocks are placed under and around the lifting bag to support the raised vehicle, as shown by Brock and Firefighter/EMT Jeff Carey.
